

Police offer advice on weapons safety

No one is immune to the feeling of senseless loss and tragedy when it is reported that a child has been injured or killed because of misuse of a weapon. The ownership of weapons carries many responsibilities including training, maintenance, usage, practice, transportation, storage – but, above all, safety.

If you and your family own or are considering weapon ownership, we encourage you to take the time to make the critical decisions that may save your life or the lives of your loved ones.

People of all ages have a natural curiosity toward firearms and weapons in general. However, children do not have the experience that may help protect them in dangerous situations. The lack of experience often results in a reduced sense of fear, a lack of cautious behavior and a child making dangerous choices.

It is the responsibility of the adult who has made the choice to be involved with weapons to take the measures necessary so that the weapon does not endanger innocent people. Therefore, the precautions you need to consider include:

☐ Know the legal requirements pertaining to weapon purchase, transfer, possession, licensing and registration.

☐ Know the legal requirements regulating carrying and transporting weapons.

☐ Know the laws defining use of deadly force by citizens in the areas where you intend to have the weapon. Also know the civil penalties of death or injury which may result from you firing or someone else abusing the use of your weapon.

☐ You must properly clean and maintain your weapon to ensure its proper functioning and safety during use.

☐ Adequate training is essential. Certified and reputable instruction courses should require specific course content, performance levels and length of training for all students.

☐ Always treat your weapon as if it were loaded. Assume that its safety devices will fail. When handling or cleaning your weapon never leave it unattended – it should be in your view, under your supervision at all times.

☐ Safe and secure storage is one of the most important responsibilities that you must assume. Only you and your spouse should be aware of where your weapon is Presidio permanently stored. It should not be within sight or reach of children, or accessible to burglars.

From the desk of the Garrison Commander

Commander offers updates on lead-based paint, Y2K issues

Hello all,

I want to give you an update on our lead-based paint abatement program. In order to abate the most critical units, the program has been shifted from a contiguous neighborhood approach to a "as required" approach, meaning we don't have to stay within an individual neighborhood area until its done and can shift to the most critical dwellings.

A team consisting of the Director of Public Works and the Environmental Scientist for Air, Asbestos and Lead-Based Paint selected 70 dwellings through on-site visits. The list was provided to the Mayors for their concurrence and based on their concurrence was identified to the Corps of Engineers Project Manager and Contractor.

The entire list of 70 dwellings has been funded; work will begin on these this month. Dwellings to be treated include 21 units from Fitch Park, 49 units from Marshall Park, plus the completion of 50 units from Stilwell Park from the previous contract. Hayes Park, vicinity of Buna Circle, has 25 units identified for complete renovation, which includes the lead-based paint abatement. Work has already begun on this renovation.

Our lead-based paint abatement program is dependent upon funding availability. A total of $2 million has been spent to abate approximately 560 units. It is now estimated, based on current costs, that $5.3 million will be needed to complete the program.

We have asked for additional funds, and this requirement has been included in our MAR program for priority funding. We are also hosting a number of independent certified contractors and the Industrial Hygienist from the Corps of Engineers to see if we can get a more cost efficient contract to allow us to do more units with existing funds.

The carbon monoxide detectors are being procured by Navy Public Works for installation in our quarters. We are expecting them to begin issue and installation within the next few weeks.

Also want to tell you about the steps we have taken for Y2K. We just completed a number of successful tests for the installation.

We will have generators posted in critical locations so that we can continue to operate throughout any potential crisis and fix whatever emergency may arise. We will also have a team of 10 area experts on duty through New Year's Eve, 8 p.m.-6 a.m., with other follow-on call-up teams as needed.

We are working to ensure that our electrical power, gas, water, and sewage continue without a break in service. However, most of our systems have been privatized, and we cannot make that guarantee, although each one of the utilities have assured us that they have also checked and tested their systems.

If, in fact, you find that you do have a problem, please contact our team. They can reached directly at 242-6999 or through the Installation Staff Duty at the Presidio of Monterey after hours at 242-5119.

Thanks for listening and Happy Holidays!

Weekly briefings assist those leaving military

Individuals who are leaving the military invited to attend an Army Career and Alumni Program briefing presented every Monday and Thursday at 1 p.m. at Taylor Hall, Building 616, Room 115. The briefing lasts about two hours.

Public law requires all military personnel to attend an ACAP or Transition Assistance Management Program briefing either 180 days prior to discharge, release from active duty or retirement date, or as soon as they are notified that the commander is recommending separation. Military members should attend one of these briefings if they:

- Have informed that they are being recommended for separation
- Are requesting separation
- Are in the National Guard or U.S. Army Reserves and are getting off of active duty for training after serving 90 or more days active service
- Are within 180 days of their expiration term of service date or retirement

— Are service members or the spouse of a service member and would like to increase their knowledge regarding the ACAP program

If any of these applies to you,

Shoppers beware of deceptive holiday sales

This holiday season, watch out for vendors' slick trick advertising designed to make you believe you will save money if you take advantage of their "sales." Typical pitches and seductions include "Preseason Sale, Prices Slashed, 40 percent off Post-holiday Sale, Last Days!" and even the laughable "Going out of Business" or "Liquidation Sale."

When is a sale really a sale? How many times has your spouse returned home with an armload of merchandise proudly declaring, "I got it all on sale"?

Don't assume the reduction from a "regular" price means that the product was recently or will soon be actually sold at that price. For example, a retailer sells coffeemakers, which cost him $50 each. His usual markup is 50 percent over cost, which makes his regular retail price $75. He inflates the price to an "everyday original" $100 and either never or for a few days sells the coffeemakers for $100 in order to later advertise a "25 percent cut" in price. "Terrific Bargain: Perk-A-Matic Coffeemakers, were $100, now only $75!" This is obviously a false claim. The advertised "bargain" is not genuine.

Although you may not at first detect an unfair or deceptive ad scheme, your suspicions may be aroused by a little basic math or a little familiarity with certain store items. Recently a service member noticed some shoes on sale for practically what they normally sold for. They were advertised at 60 percent below regular price with another 20 percent discount. She smartly reasoned that if she were paying $28 for the shoes then someone else must have been paying about $130. No one was, and her complaint to her state's Attorney General's Office quickly ended the sale.

If jewelry, furniture, rugs, or mattresses are on your Christmas shopping list, be an especially wary consumer. Buyers are most apt to be duped by phony sales claims on these items, according to the Federal Trade Commission, because they are difficult to compare or evaluate. Savvy consumers educate themselves to be able to evaluate the quality of the merchandise being sold, and then compare value with value — do not compare percentage-off claims against each other. For example, when buying jewelry determine the type, grade, quality, metallic content, size, weight, cut, color, durability, serviceability, and origin of the precious metal or gemstone and then compare price with that of similar pieces offered by other stores.

Several restrictions are placed on going-out-of-business, bankruptcy and other similar types of sales. The reason for the sale must be true, prices must be lower than normal, and the seller cannot order more merchandise just for the special sale. If the sale is fraudulent, opening, according to Joe county district attorney for county, is that "a store a inventory to one of its for a limited period with reportedly clearance or going-out-of-business sales prices. Then the outlet closes after forcing that additional inventory on the public at substantially regular prices." As bogus as that is, buyers think they're getting a wonderful fact they are getting

In California deceptive pricing and illegal bargain sales involve a variety of pricing gimmicks that lure consumers into stores believing they are getting a bargain when they are not. When advertisers compare their "LOW LOW LOW" price with some other reference price, the ad must clearly identify the item on sale and the nature of the reference price, and the seller must be able to prove up the reference price. If they can't, the comparison is deceptive. They are misleading the buyer into thinking he or she is saving the difference between the price fictitiously offered as a comparison and the seller's supposedly lower asking price. They also violate Civil Code section 1770(m) which prohibits "making false or misleading statements of fact concerning reasons for, existence of, or amounts of price reductions."

The best defense against deceptive sales is to do your homework and apply shrewd buying habits before emptying your wallet. Comparison shop. An advertised sale is not necessarily the best bargain. Compare value to value, not one percentage off claim with another. Become familiar with a store's merchandise. Then you'll know if an item was ever really sold at the "regular" price. Don't be impressed by claims of big savings off a "list" or "manufacturer's suggested retail price."

If you think you've been ripped off in a sales scam contact the Legal Assistance Office at 242-5083 or 242-5084 for an appointment. Complaint avenues include the Better Business Bureau at 372-3149, District Attorney's Office of Consumer Protection at 647-7773, and the Department of Motor Vehicles for car sales issues at 649-2939. Pre-authorizations required for active duty medical care

Active duty members enrolled with a local military treatment facility who require urgent, non-emergent medical care in a non-military medical facility must now FIRST call their Clinic Primary Care Manager, or on-call physician at 242-5234 or 242-5663, for a pre-authorization.

The Managed Care Contractor now processes all active duty civilian health care claims for payment. If pre-authorization is not received prior to receiving urgent care, you may have to pay the bill. The Military Medical Support Office service point of contact, Great Lakes, Ill., will have final approval authority.

The customer service number is 1-888-647-6676. Yellow wallet cards for active duty with health care access numbers are provided during the in-processing briefing and are available at the Health Clinic. This is not the same card issued to TRICARE Prime family members.

This process is the same process family members who are enrolled in TRICARE Prime follow. They must first try to contact their primary care manager. If unable to do so, the health care finder can assist them. The toll free number to the health care finder is 1-800-242-6788. TRICARE Prime wallet cards that include the TRICARE Prime PCM number, and 800 number are available at the TRICARE Service Center office located at 4399 Parker Flats Cut-Off Road, on the Presidio of Monterey Annex.

Non-referred care in a non-military medical facility for an active duty member is most likely to occur when on leave or temporary duty off-station. When travelling, if available, seek care at a military facility. You do not have to call the 1-888 MMSO number if you are seen in a military medical facility.

Should your medical situation be an emergency, go directly to the nearest emergency room. You do not call the 1-888 MMSO number until after your emergency situation is handled. Call, or have someone call on your behalf, the 1-888 MMSO number to initiate your claim within 24 hours of your emergency.

All questions and concerns regarding active duty claims or bills should be referred to the TRICARE Office at 1-800-242-6788. If your claim is denied for payment, contact the 1-888 MMSO number for customer service.

If you or your family member would like to know more about health care such as surgery, tests, medical treatments, or managing a chronic illness, call the Health Care Information Line at 1-800-611-2883. This is a free call.

The registered nurse and the Audio Health Library gives information about many topics of health care.

These programs won't replace your health care provider, but they may help you get the information you need to make the best health care decisions for yourself and your family.

❑ Store a handgun unloaded and uncocked in a securely locked container. Do not store a handgun in an unsecured bedside table or under your mattress or pillow.

❑ Childproof a revolver by placing a padlock around the strap of the weapon or by securing a trigger lock. Childproof a semi-automatic handgun by removing the magazine, disassembling the frame from the slide and magazine or securing a trigger lock. There are a number of new safety devices and storage compartments available for your evaluation.

❑ Store ammunition in a locked container, away from heat or moisture.

❑ Never throw out ammunition in the trash.

❑ When you go on vacation, consider additional safety measures regarding your weapon. If you take it, know the laws governing transportation of weapons outside the home. And be sure to take adequate safety and storage devices while transporting your weapon.

Even when you are careful, accidents can happen all too easily. If you choose to maintain a weapon at home or at work, we encourage you to discuss the necessary precautions with your family members or co-workers. Especially where children are involved, take the time to teach do's and don'ts in advance, rather than waiting until their curiosity gets them into more trouble than they know how to handle. If you practice hunting as a social activity, we encourage adequate training for all participants.

Be aware of changes in your children as they grow older. Listen to and observe their attitudes, language, style of dress, companions, and interaction with family members. If you feel that your child needs help that you may not be able to provide, find someone immediately with whom you may discuss the issue. Help can be found in a number of places – schools, churches, community organizations, parent-teachers associations, coaches, friends and your local law enforcement agency. Because public safety is such an important issue for our community, we feel the preceding precautions are well worth your time to consider and enact.

For additional safety information, please call your local police departments' Crime Prevention Unit. Military personnel and their family members assigned or attached to the Presidio of Monterey and residing on the Presidio of Monterey Annex are required to register all privately owned firearms with the Presidio of Monterey Police Department, Building 4468, Gigling Road, Presidio of Monterey Annex. They must do so within three working days of their arrival at the Presidio or of obtaining possession of a firearm. Privately owned firearms and ammunition will not be secured or stored in troop billets, bachelor quarters, or in guest houses. These items will be secured in a unit arms room facility or other off-post location.

For more information contact the Presidio of Monterey Police Department at 242-7868.

The following notes apply to U.S. Postal Service and California laws for transporting weapons.

❑ It is unlawful for any person to carry a handgun concealed upon his or her person or concealed in a vehicle without a license issued pursuant to Penal Code Section 12050. (Penal Code 12025(a).)

❑ A firearm carried openly in a belt or holster is not concealed within the meaning of the above prohibition. (Penal Code 12025(e).)

❑ A firearm locked in a motor vehicle's trunk or in a locked container carried in the vehicle other than in the utility or glove compartment is not concealed within the meaning of Penal Code Section 12025; neither is a firearm carried by a person directly to or from a motor vehicle for any lawful purpose when it is carried within a locked container. Want to place an ad?

Explanation of classified ad policy

The following information is provided to explain and clarify policy for individuals who would like to publish classified ads in POM-Mart.

Military members, retirees and Department of Defense civilian employees with valid identification cards are authorized to place classified ads in the Community News.

To place an ad in the Community News, complete the form on the back page of the Community News and deliver it to the Public Affairs Office, Building 614, Room 142, Presidio of Monterey, 93944. Ads may also be sent via e-mail to the editor at wright@pom-emh1.army.mil. Individuals should be sure to include all information requested on the form, including the category of the ad.

Daytime work telephone numbers are for use by Community News staff only; they will not be listed in ads. Individuals may place up to three ads per household in different categories per issue. Each ad should not exceed 35 words; itemized property for sale should be valued at least $10.

The Community News staff will make every effort to publish ads accurately, but we reserve the right to edit ads to meet readability, format and space requirements. Report typographical errors to the editor, and they will be corrected in the next available issue.

Acceptable classified ads include items in the categories of Autos; Motorcycles; Trucks, Vans, Sport, RVs; Wanted; Sports Equipment; Entertainment, Music Items; Computers and Accessories; Lost and Found; Miscellaneous; Pets or Household Items. Items must be for one-time sale or for free – not for a profit-sharing venture of multiple items. The Community News does not take responsibility for items advertised.

Classified ads for businesses, rentals, free information, help for hire or tutoring, or illegal items are not authorized. Each ad will be published in three consecutive issues unless it is renewed or cancelled.

The date the ad was first published is printed in parentheses following each ad. For example, ads dated (11-19) will continue to run through the Dec. 16 issue. Classified ads may be renewed or cancelled by phone; however, new ads, additions or major changes to ads must be done in writing before the Wednesday deadline for the next issue. Deadlines are generally a week and a half prior to the next publication. When calling in reference to an ad, be sure to identify the category, first few words of the ad, phone number as printed and the date following the ad.

Deadline for the Dec. 16 issue is Wednesday; deadline for the Jan. 14 issue is Jan. 5.

Please refer questions concerning this policy to the editor of the Community News at the Public Affairs Office, at 242-5104 or 242-6426.
